NOTE: It is far more helpful to show number of seconds behind the overall winner for each finisher than total laps. You can simply start a watch with the first checkered flag and read off the time as the cars cross the line. Enter the total seconds in the column. For a finisher completing fewer laps than the winner, show distance and seconds behind. For example: The seventh place car completes two fewer laps than the overall winner and crossed 87 seconds behind him. His notation would read 21.87. If this recommended procedure is impossible, please change column heading to "Laps."
